This week in re-

This week: Daniel Hardonal goes with the 1985 Hawk 3 wheel pedal vehicle.

The hawk does 16mph going in a straight line. "It feels even lighter than my bed." "It feels just strange to pedal." "Me` legs hurt." Daniel took on a challenge round a farm. He made it round quickly and carefully. The pedal bike it self held up very well. Yes 16mph is quick for this.

In the 2nd image. Dan "comrade boy" is doing 13 mph. and yes the cameras was covered in dirt in this shot. And zoomed in far. "It feels like dad Ford Cortina/ Mondeo days." "Yes, it does have slight motor to start it but for £299, its perfect." Like this next challenge.

"I'm doing 36mph and about to hit a rock." "Nope that was just me." The hawk is not the ideal vehicle for down hill as the brakes are rubbish. You can tell this thing is as fragile as my glass cupboard. "The rock in NOT hitting me."

Going down hill, it starts cackling and pulling up power. It goes to 14mph and will pull a bit.

There have been demonstrations in a crash and this is it. You are instructed to have all belts on and helmet. In the event of a crash. With your strong helmet and belts. You should in theory be ok.

I'm on my way to the petrol station to fill up the motor starter. After 1h 8m of continuous usage, I was satisfied to fill it up. It cost £16.18 to fill both the spare tank and hawk up but it really only cost £5.28 for half the car. And there is always a teeny bit for the brakes.

Leading out into an intersection was easy. As I was going at a low speed, I could climb up to power. Going up I am. Then the motor stars again and up im going. "HOPEFULLY!"

I went up at a 20` incline and it pulled through at 7mph. So My legs now hurt like hell. Luckily there was a hill from here. Also quick reminder, I've seen a 2011 model before. Its ugly. This is better.

Vs

Civetta Bolide

Tesco have kindly lent us their trolley. So, we are going up against Italy. The Civetta top speed is 215mph pushing it, but in the roads of Yorkshire (san Francisco map) have twists and turns. Meanwhile the trolley is as fast as the amount of toilet roll and tea you put into it. This is a race not to be missed on the 1st magazine. This is a big moment in mankind.

Trolley driver: Rowan Atkinson (Mr bean) IQ 185

Civetta: Stupidus Calculous (dumb) IQ 58

EVENTS:

1. The bolide stalls moving back.
2. They are off. Speeding away.
3. Trolley makes a hefty right turn
4. Pointie (sponsor) pens make a call saying "NO!"
5. Trolley goes past petrol station at 73/4 mph
6. Onboard views from the trolley
7. Trolley goes under the wooded poles. Civetta speeding on.
8. Stupidus crashes. (STOOPID)
9. Stupidus gets stuck...

The advert for the event: "Its all going wrong people."

10. Stoopid is saved from the ditch. Now it is just all to play for.

11. Trolley takes the OUGH corner at 40mph and skims the wall.

12. Stoopid is still making to him. His smart steering manoeuvres are great for this.
13. Trolley makes it to the petrol station after 9 mins.
14. Stupidus takes the OUGH turn at 34-3 mph and makes it.

The Ibishu Dove

The predecessor to the Ibishu pigeon.

Talked in next time.

In opinion. These are 2 sports cars from 2000-2005. There was a turbo model.

Whats better. Vauxhall Vx220 OR Opel Speedster.
